LEARN ~ THINK ~ CHANGE

PROGRAM INFORMATION

This one-day workshop helps adults develop an understanding of the triggers and thinking patterns that can lead to road rage, and assists in discovering effective ways to cope with the causes of road rage. Using a cognitive and practical approach it seeks to identify & replace problematic thinking and behaviour. This program is suitable for people deemed by either the police or the courts to have acted aggressively while driving a motor vehicle that results in conflict with another individual. It is interactive and requires active participation.

- 6 hours of instruction in one day of group sessions
- Confidential & non-judgmental atmosphere
